

ABSTRACT
NO-BACK DEVICE

A no-back device comprising first and second ratchet members connectable to a rotating member for rotation therewith and at least one pawl member, engagable with at least one of said ratchet members, wherein said first and said second ratchet members are formed from respective materials having different chemical and/or physical properties.